

“Men of Color, Mental Health, and the Correctional System”
Cedar Valley Community Panelists

This will be a panel discussion devoted to the topic of men of color in the correctional system. Topics include:

- How can men of color be assisted by mental health counseling during and after their sentences?
- How do men of color (in disproportionate numbers) get into the correctional system in the first place? Is there a disciplinary pipeline?
- How can mental health counseling serve as a reasonable and useful intervention tool?

PANELISTS:

Tom Eachus, Director, Black Hawk-Grundy Mental Health Center

David Goodson, MSW, civil rights activist

Bill Tate, Dept of Correctional Services, Black Hawk County

Cora Turner, Associate Superintendent of Waterloo Schools

Facilitator: Dr. Kimberly Baker, UNI Criminology
