Her previous position was as the Director of Student Support Services where she oversaw the counseling department, TRIO, disability services, and their learning services area. She was also responsible for Title IX and Equity compliance. Professor Self taught at the community college level for a number of years, and has been a previous adjunct in the department.

Professor Self is a licensed mental health counselor and has owned a private practice since 2011. She is working to complete her doctoral degree in Counselor Education and Supervision at the University of Iowa and is 9 credits away from being ABD. Professor Self’s areas of research interest include caregivers and professionals experience with Autism Spectrum Disorder, low income and first generation college students, as well as federal compliance management in higher education.

Professor Self does have some time to enjoy! Her husband, Chris, and her have four children, two of whom are in college (one is at UNI - she bribes him with lunch once a week so you’ll likely see him around) and two of whom still live at home. They enjoy travelling to visit their family across the country, and spending time with their kids as much as possible, especially before the last two are gone!

Progress Review
The CACREP standards require a systematic progress for all students admitted to the School Counseling and Clinical Mental Health Counseling programs. Once each year the faculty will review each student’s progress in three areas: academic performance, personal growth/interpersonal skills, and clinical skills. If there are concerns the student will receive written notice and will discuss any concerns or suggestions for improvement with his or her advisor or the program coordinator. If significant difficulties are noted, the advisor will make contact with the student and procedures described in the Retention Review Policy (I-B and II) will be followed (See Retention Review Policy on the website: https://csbs.uni.edu/sahs/counseling/retention-review-policy-counselor-education).

Coursework and Advising

Advising
Students are encouraged to meet with their assigned advisor to discuss course selection, progress in the program, and adjustment to the current semester. Faculty advisors can answer student questions and provide professional guidance. Faculty are available during office hours or by appointment.

Summer Advising for first Semester
When students are admitted, they are required to participate in a group advising session the summer before they start the program. At this time, the advising process will be explained and students will approved to register.

Registration Advising
Before registration students will receive an announcement via the counseling list-serv regarding advising. This announcement will list times faculty will be available to advise students and advising forms you will need to bring to the appointment. Appointments will be done on a first come, first serve basis during these times. These meeting usually take 10-15 minutes, so be prepared to wait. Students are strongly encouraged to meet with their advisor as soon as possible as there may be more options available to students who register early. During registration week, faculty will not make individual appoints outside the advising times listed. If you have further questions, you can request an additional meeting outside of registration week. Faculty will sign the registration form and direct you to the counseling office.

Approvals and Permissions
Students will turn their registration forms to Donna Raubs in 235 Latham. Donna will assess availability of courses and enter permission. If a course is full, she will then enter permission for the alternative course you have listed on your registration form. She will notify students via the list-serv when all the permission have been entered and you will be able to log into My Universe and register for courses.

If you are taking courses outside of the department, you will need to contact that department for registration procedures.

Student Requests
At times, students will need to make special request regarding coursework. Students will prepare these request within MyUniverse system. To expedite the process, students should discuss the request with their advisor prior to submission. The request will be approved by the faculty advisor, program coordinator, and graduate dean’s office. Approval must be gained BEFORE the requested action is taken.

Thesis Option
Students interested in the Thesis option should consult with their advisor during the first year of classes. Ordinarily only students who plan to pursue a Ph.D. select the thesis option.

Course Rotation
Students must complete courses according to this rotation. If you do not follow the rotation, your graduation will most likely be delayed.

Academic Grievance & Appeal

Purpose
Provide a process for the redress of academic grievances for graduate and undergraduate students within the framework of academic freedom, the integrity of the course, and the prerogative of the faculty to assign grades.

Policy and Procedures
1. General Considerations
   The procedures described in this policy shall be the sole and exclusive means for the redress of a student’s academic grievance.

   Recognizing that grade determinations are an integral part of a faculty member’s academic freedom, administrative officers cannot substitute their judgment for that of the faculty concerning the assignment of a grade except as a result of the grievance process outlined in this policy or as defined by circumstances requiring an administrative grade change as documented in University policy regarding administrative grade changes.

   Grievances regarding make-up work for absences should refer to Section 7 of this document. See below.

   Grievances involving alleged acts of discrimination or harassment of students based on age, color, creed, disability, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, veteran status, or any other basis protected by federal and/or Iowa law, should be reported to the Office of Compliance and Equity Management/Title IX Officer no later than the time at which the student files a formal grievance under Section C below.

   If the Office of Compliance and Equity Management (OCEM) receives a student complaint of discrimination that also involves an academic grievance, the academic matter will be referred to the Office of the Executive Vice President and Provost and handled through this student academic grievance process. The OCEM will be notified of the findings of the Student Academic Appeals Board regarding the academic matter.

   If a faculty member or administrator fails to respond by any applicable deadline specified in this procedure, the student may move the grievance to the next step in the process. If a student fails to respond by any applicable deadline specified in this procedure, the grievance shall be closed and documentation stating such shall be prepared by the relevant academic administrator, sent to the department and kept in the student’s departmental file for ten years.

   At any time during the informal or formal grievance process either party may elect to be accompanied to meetings or hearings by an advisor. At the student’s request, the Dean of Students Office or Northern Iowa Student Government (NISG) may designate a representative to accompany and assist the student. At the faculty member’s request, United Faculty may designate a representative to accompany and assist the faculty.

   Throughout this document, “class days” refers to university class days during the regular fall and spring semesters.

2. Informal Procedures
   A student who feels academically aggrieved because of something that a faculty member has or has not done shall make every reasonable effort to resolve the grievance informally with the faculty member of record.

   1. The student must inform the faculty member of his/her grievance in writing, via electronic communication, within ten class days of the first day of the semester following the semester or summer session in which the alleged offense occurred.
   2. The faculty member must respond within ten class days from the date notification of the grievance is sent by the student unless both the student and the faculty member agree in writing to continue the informal process.
If the student is an undergraduate, then the faculty member’s department head may act as a mediator to help the faculty member and student come to an informal resolution of the issue.

If the student is a graduate student, the Associate Dean of the Graduate College or the faculty member’s department head may assume the mediator role as appropriate.

3. Formal Procedures
   A student who is dissatisfied with the resolution of her/his grievance using the informal procedures specified in Section B above may initiate a formal process by completing the Appeal Form available in the following locations:
   1. The Office of the Executive Vice President and Provost, Seerley Hall Room 1 or online at http://www.uni.edu/provost/sites/default/files/pdf-files/formal_grievance_form_2013a.pdf
   2. Departmental offices

4. The Appeal Form requires the student to state the specific nature of the grievance and to describe, in detail and through specific examples, how the faculty member’s policy or conduct has affected the student’s academic outcomes. Only evidence pertinent to the grievance will be considered.

If the student at any point in the grievance process wishes to withdraw his/her grievance, he/she must notify all parties involved of his/her intent to do so. A copy of this notification shall be kept in the student’s departmental file for ten years.

If there is a dispute about the timeliness of sending the Appeal Form, the person responsible for sending the Appeal Form at that step has the burden of proving that the Form was sent within the time limit specified.

Throughout this policy, whenever the use of e-mail or electronic transmission of a document is specified it indicates that the official, assigned UNI e-mail address for the student, faculty member or relevant administrator must be used for these communications.

5. Pre-Hearing Stages of Formal Procedure
   1. The first stage of the formal appeal must be initiated within five class days following the completion of the informal appeal process. The formal process is initiated by the student sending the Appeal Form electronically to the faculty member who is involved in the grievance at the faculty member’s UNI e-mail address.

   2. The faculty member has ten class days from the initiation of the formal process to complete the response section of the Appeal Form and send it to the student electronically at the student’s assigned, official UNI e-mail address. In the response the faculty member must either propose a means of redressing the grievance or give reasons why s/he believes the grievance is without merit or cannot be redressed.

   3. If the student is satisfied, s/he need take no further action. If no further action is taken within ten class days of the faculty member sending the completed Appeal Form, the student will be deemed to have agreed with the faculty member’s response. If the faculty member’s response proposes redress requiring an action by the faculty member or student then the responsible party has ten class days from the date the Appeal form is sent by the faculty member to the student to take such action. If the faculty member fails to complete an action proposed in the agreed upon redress within ten class days then the student may resume the appeal process by sending the Appeal Form to the faculty member’s department head with an explanation for reviving the appeal. If the student fails to complete an action necessary to achieve the agreed upon redress within ten class days of the sending of the Appeal Form by the faculty member the grievance will be considered closed.
4. If the student is dissatisfied with the faculty member’s response on the Appeal Form, the student must indicate her/his continuing disagreement on the Appeal Form and send it to the faculty member’s department head electronically within ten class days of the date the Form is sent by the faculty member to the student.

5. Within ten class days (the consultation period) of the Appeal Form being sent by the student to the department head, the department head must consult with the student and the faculty member separately to discuss the basis for the grievance. Based on the Appeal Form and the consultations, the department head has two alternative courses of action.
   1. If the department head concludes the grievance is unfounded or without merit, s/he must complete the department head’s section of the Appeal Form, indicating the reasons for his/her judgment. The Appeal Form must be sent to the student electronically with a copy to the faculty member, within five class days of the expiration of the consultation period. If the student is satisfied, s/he need take no further action. If no further action is taken within ten class days of the department head sending the completed Appeal Form, the student will be deemed to have agreed with the department head’s response.

   2. If the department head concludes there are reasonable grounds for the student’s complaint, the department head may meet with the faculty member and student separately or together to facilitate resolution of the grievance to which all parties must agree. Such facilitation must conclude within ten class days (the facilitation period) of the end of the consultation period, unless both the faculty member and student agree in writing to extend the time for facilitation. In no case may the facilitation period exceed fifteen class days. If a resolution is reached with which both parties agree, a written statement of resolution will be appended to the Appeal Form, which will be kept in the student’s departmental file for ten years.

   Alternatively, if the department head is unable to resolve the grievance by mutual agreement between the faculty member and the student within the specified facilitation period, the department head must complete the appropriate section of the Appeal Form indicating that no mutual resolution was possible and making any recommendations s/he has for resolution of the grievance. The department head must send the Form electronically to the student grievant, the faculty member and the appropriate dean within five class days of completion of the facilitation period.

   3. For undergraduates, the appropriate dean is the faculty member’s dean. For graduate students, the appropriate dean is the Dean of the Graduate College.

6. Within ten class days (the consultation period) of the Appeal Form being sent by the department head to the dean, the dean must consult with the student and the faculty member separately to discuss the basis for the grievance. Based on the Appeal Form and the meeting with the student, the dean has two alternative courses of action.
   1. If the dean concludes the grievance is unfounded or without merit, s/he must complete the dean’s section of the Appeal Form, indicating the reasons for his/her judgment. The Appeal Form must be sent electronically to the student, to the faculty member and the faculty member’s department head within five class days of completion of the consultation. If the student is satisfied, s/he need take no further action. If no further action is taken within ten class days of the dean sending the completed Appeal Form, the student will be deemed to have agreed with the dean’s response.

   2. If the dean concludes there are reasonable grounds for the student’s complaint, the dean may either meet with the faculty member and student separately or together to facilitate resolution of the grievance to which all parties must agree. Such facilitation must conclude within ten class days (the facilitation period) of the end of the consultation period, unless both the faculty member and student agree in writing to extend the time for facilitation. In no case may the facilitation period exceed fifteen class days. If a resolution is reached with which both parties agree, a written statement of resolution will be appended to the Appeal Form, which will be kept in the student’s departmental file for ten years.

3. Alternatively, if the dean is unable to resolve the grievance issue by mutual agreement between the faculty member and the student within the period of time specified in paragraph b. above, the dean must complete the appropriate section of the Appeal Form indicating that no mutual resolution was possible and making any recommendations s/he has for resolution of the grievance. The dean must send the Form electronically to the student grievant, the faculty member, the faculty member’s department head, and the Executive Vice President and Provost within five class days of completion of the facilitation period.

7. Upon receipt of the Appeal Form, the Office of the Executive Vice President and Provost will send a copy of the Form to the pool of potential Appeals Board members and will initiate the Academic Appeals Board process within ten class days of receipt of the Form.

6. Student Academic Appeals Board

1. Membership of the Board

The Committee on Committees will hold elections each year to create a pool of ten faculty who can serve as appeal board members in the event a student files a grievance appeal with the Office of the Executive Vice President and Provost. The pool shall consist of two faculty representatives who have been duly elected by and from the graduate instructional faculty of each undergraduate college and two representatives who have been elected at large. Faculty members are initially elected for a three-year term and may be elected for additional three-year terms. The faculty members shall be tenured at the rank of assistant professor or higher. The Chair of the Board shall be elected annually from among the pool of ten elected faculty members.

All student members shall be appointed by the Northern Iowa Student Government (NISG) Senate. Student members are appointed for one-year terms; students may be reappointed for additional one-year terms. The President of the NISG will notify the Office of the Executive Vice President and Provost of the names and contact information of the students who have been appointed at the start of each academic year.

The Student Academic Appeals Board has final student/faculty authority for adjudicating student academic appeals, except as provided in Part E of this policy.

A student academic appeal will be heard by a panel consisting of five faculty members drawn from the pool and four students who are of the same status, undergraduate or graduate, as the student who is making the appeal to the Board.

When notified of an appeal by the Provost’s office, the Chair will randomly select four faculty members from the pool to constitute the panel and will notify the designated administrative assistant for the Board in the provost’s office, who will contact the selected panel members. The president or vice president of NISG will also notify the designated administrative assistant with the names of the designated student representatives for the panel.

If a faculty member or student who has been selected for the panel has a conflict of interest, s/he shall recuse him/herself from the Board and not be involved in deliberations involving the Appeal. A conflict of interest for faculty members in the pool is created when the grievance is against a faculty member in the same department, one with whom the faculty member collaborates on scholarly work, or to whom the faculty member is related by blood, marriage or other personal relationship or if the grievant is an advisee, current student of the panel member or is related by blood, marriage or other personal relationship. A conflict of interest for a student panel member is created when s/he has a familial, romantic or friend relationship with the grievant or is in a course with the faculty member, is advised by the faculty member or is related by blood, marriage or other personal relationship to the faculty member.
If a member of the faculty or student pool is unable to fulfill her/his duties or if the faculty or student member has been derelict in his/her duties such as by non attendance at hearings which have been confirmed, then, as applicable, either – (1) the faculty member may be permanently removed from the pool by a majority vote of the faculty members, including the Chair of the Board, or (2) the student member may be permanently removed from the pool by a majority vote of the student members and the Chair of the Board. If a faculty or student member is permanently removed, the body responsible for electing or appointing that person will be notified by the Chair of the Board of the need for a replacement.

2. Student Appeal Board Procedures

   The Executive Vice President and Provost or his/her designee places a case on the Board docket, arranges the time and place for the hearing, and provides the materials for Board review prior to the hearing. Notice of the hearing and rules governing the Board are made available in advance to both parties. The hearing will be held within twenty class days after the appeal has been filed with the Office. The Board Chair in consultation with the Provost or designee has discretionary power to delay the hearing due to mitigating circumstances.

   Hearings are closed to the public. Only those individuals with a specific role in the hearing, as described in these procedures, may be present at the hearing. In addition to the parties to the grievance, their witnesses and advisors, and the members of the appeal board, a staff member from the Executive Vice President and Provost’s office will be present at the hearing to make an audio recording of the proceedings and the Associate Provost for Academic Affairs or designee will be present to answer procedural questions. In the event that a student or faculty member brings an attorney as an advisor, then the University Counsel will also be present at the hearing.

   The audio recording is a confidential record and will not be disclosed except as required by law. After resolution of the appeal, the recording will be maintained in the Office of the Executive Vice President and Provost for a period of seven years.

   If the faculty member and/or the student prepares a written statement for presentation at the hearing, the other party to the grievance will be provided with a copy of the written statement at least two class days prior to the hearing.

   Both parties to the appeal have the right to present additional evidence to the Board, subject only to the Board’s judgment that such evidence is relevant to the case. Additional evidence may include testimony by members of the university community (students, faculty, staff). In making judgments on the relevance of such evidence including testimony, the Board will, consistent with the gravity of such proceedings, admit such evidence unless it is clearly not relevant to determining the outcome of the appeal. Generally, parties are limited to fifteen minutes for presentation of their case.

   The student may be accompanied to the appeals hearing by an advisor, who may be an attorney. If a student will be advised by an attorney, written notice must be provided to the Executive Vice President and Provost or his/her designee at least two class days before the hearing. The Chair of the Board will be notified by the Executive Vice President and Provost or designee. The advisor cannot address the review panel, examine witnesses, ask questions of any participants or otherwise interrupt or interfere with the conduct of the hearing. A student may ask for one recess, not to exceed ten minutes in length, to consult with her/his advisor outside the hearing room. It is the student’s responsibility to make the advisor aware of her/his role in the appeal process. The Chair of the Board may exclude the advisor from the hearing if s/he does not comply with these rules.

   The faculty member may also be accompanied to the hearing by an advisor, such as a representative from United Faculty or by a private attorney. The advisor cannot address the review panel, examine witnesses, ask questions of any participants or otherwise interrupt or interfere with the conduct of the hearing. A faculty member may ask for one recess, not to exceed ten minutes in length, to consult with her/his advisor outside the hearing room. It is the faculty member’s responsibility to make the advisor aware of her/his role in the appeal process. The Chair of the Board may exclude the advisor from the hearing if s/he does not comply with these rules.

Both parties to the appeal have the right to ask questions of the other during the hearing. Questions must be relevant to the issues of the appeal.

The members of the Board may question both parties to the appeal. Questions must be relevant to the issues of the appeal.

Whenever the Appeals Board feels the need for expert advice within a particular area of scholarship, the Board shall have the authority and the University shall provide the necessary means, to seek the advice from experts whether associated with the University or not.

Upon request from the Board, the faculty member shall make available any records which are pertinent to the appeal. The confidentiality of these records will be safeguarded. Failure to provide the records without sufficient cause may result in a finding in favor of the student at the discretion of the Appeals Board.

The student bears the burden of persuasion. Board members will be persuaded by clear and convincing evidence that the faculty member has acted arbitrarily or unfairly. “Clear and convincing” evidence means that Board members must believe that the facts alleged are highly probably or reasonably certain.

Appeals are decided by a majority vote of a quorum of the Board. A quorum consists of six members, excluding the Chair, at least three of whom must be faculty.

The Board’s ruling and the reasons for the decision are reported in writing to both parties, to the faculty member’s department head and dean (and Dean of the Graduate College as appropriate), and to the Executive Vice President and Provost.

7. If the Appeals Board makes a decision that a grade must be changed, the Registrar receives a copy of the decision authorizing a change in the grade on the student’s official records. If the grade change decision by the Appeals Board affects a decision by the Committee on Admission, Readmission and Retention (CARR) regarding suspension of a student from the University, the CARR should also receive a copy of the decision so that it can reevaluate the suspension decision.

8. Appeal Based on Violations of Student Academic Appeals Board Procedures
Within fifteen class days of being notified of the Board’s decision, either party may appeal the decision of the Board on the grounds that stated procedures were not followed. An appeal is initiated by filing a written statement with the Office of the President of the university which clearly outlines the claimed violations of procedure and indicates how the procedural violation prejudiced the decision of the Board. The President or her/his designee will examine the transcript of the Board proceedings created from the recording and all exhibits entered as evidence to make a decision. A decision must be made and communicated within ten working days of the receipt of the appeal. The President or designee may either remand the case back to the Board with direction to reconsider the case in the light of the specified procedural problems or uphold the Board’s decision as procedurally sound. The substance of the Academic Appeals Board’s decision cannot be appealed.

9. Extension of Time Limits
It may be necessary, in the interest of justice, to extend a specified time limit when the parties involved in a grievance cannot be reached in a timely fashion by telephone, mail, email or other form of communication, or when the principal(s) may be absent from the campus or temporarily indisposed due to illness, accident, injury or other extenuating circumstances. Time limits may be extended in these circumstances by the Executive Vice President and Provost or her/his designee, as appropriate.

10. Special Procedures for Make-Up Work Grievances ARISING FROM ABSENCES
Should an instructor refuse to allow a student to make up missed work, the instructor’s decision can be appealed by the student using the grievance process outlined below. This process reflects the constraints that both instructors and students face in dealing with the timely make up of missed work:

1. The student must contact the instructor, the instructor’s department head, the instructor’s dean, and a Northern Iowa Student Government (NISG) Executive Officer in writing electronically requesting a review of the instructor’s decision within three (3) class days of the denial of make-up work.

   The NISG Executive Officer will organize a meeting between the student, the instructor, the instructor’s department head, and a minimum of two (2) tenured faculty members drawn from the pool of faculty elected to serve on the Academic Appeals Board and one student who has been appointed to the Academic Appeals Board within two (2) class days of receipt of the letter. The meeting shall take place within five class days of the receipt of the appeal letter. At the meeting the NISG Executive Officer will attempt to facilitate an informal resolution of the situation.

2. If no informal resolution is reached at the meeting, the three person committee (two faculty members and the student representative) shall designate a chair of the committee, and review the cause of the absence and the instructor’s reasons for denial and stated policies regarding attendance and make up work. This committee will render a final decision on whether the student will be allowed to make up missed work within two class days of the meeting. This decision is final and binding upon the instructor and the student. Any make-up work or exam must be equivalent in academic demand to the original assignment or exam, although it may differ in form.

3. The specific findings of the committee will be strictly confidential, and reported only to the student, instructor, department head, and instructor’s dean to ensure that the committee’s decision is acted upon in cases where a student’s appeal is granted.

   Failure of a faculty member to comply with the committee’s decision to allow make-up work will provide the student with grounds for an academic grievance in accordance with the terms of this policy.
Retention Review Policy

In agreement with the Ethical Guidelines of the American Counseling Association, the UNI Counselor Education Program has developed the following student evaluation and retention procedures. The faculty considers not only academic abilities and skill performance when making retention decisions about students, but also such aspects as whether the student has appropriate levels of maturity, judgment, emotional stability, professionalism, sensitivity to others, self-awareness, good interpersonal relationship skills, and ethical behavior.

The following procedures apply in instances where there are concerns about retaining students in the counselor education, School or Mental Health Counseling programs. Please note that these procedures occur only after a student has been admitted to the program after Level Two admission. Level One admission is Admission to Coursework and is not to be confused with program acceptance. This retention review process is initiated when the faculty has questions about a student's progress or performance in the program after Level Two admission and is not the same as a student grievance which is initiated by a student who feels aggrieved because of something that an instructor has or has not done. Copies of the grievance procedure guidelines and grievance forms are available in the Office of the Graduate College.

The Retention Review Process
Every effort is made to handle faculty concerns about student performance and progress in the program on an informal basis (option A or B) and to work together to resolve these concerns. There are three types of retention process: Informal, Formal, and Practice Based.

I. The Informal Review Procedure (A or B)

A. Faculty and Student Discussion. A counselor education faculty member meets with a student and expresses his/her concerns about performance and status in the program. During this meeting, the student is given time to respond to the concerns, and together the faculty member and the student establish a plan to remedy the situation. At this time, the faculty member informs the student that she/he will discuss the concern and plan of action with the counselor education faculty. Following this meeting with the faculty, the faculty member who initiated the discussion with the student will again meet with the student to share any additional pertinent information or additions to the action plan. Following student-faculty discussion, the plan is finalized and a written copy is sent by the initiating faculty member to the student and all members of the counselor education faculty. The plan should include specific steps to enhance performance and will include a timeline which the faculty member will monitor.

B. Faculty Meeting Discussion. In some circumstances, a faculty member may raise a question or concern about a student's progress or competence in a faculty meeting. As a group, faculty share perceptions and suggest alternatives for remediation. Following this meeting, the student's advisor, program coordinator, or initiating faculty member will meet with the student to share the concerns and suggested plan for remediation. The student has the opportunity at this time to respond to the concerns and give input on the plan, or may request a meeting with the faculty to clarify the issues and develop a plan of action. After agreement on the plan, it will be put in writing by the advisor, coordinator, or initiating faculty member with copies to the student and other faculty members. The advisor will monitor progress according to the agreed-upon timeline.

C. Intent of Informal Review. The intent in (a) and (b) is to develop a specific plan of action to remediate a concern at an informal level. Suggestions for remediation may include individual or group counseling, focused reading in a particular area, attending a course for a second time, receiving more specific feedback and assistance from a particular faculty member, developing tapes and practicing clinical skills, doing volunteer work to gain experience, or receiving personal counseling.

D. Outcome. At the end of the agreed upon timeline, the advisor, program coordinator, or initiating faculty member meets with the student to discuss goal attainment. Following this meeting, the initiating faculty member meets with the counselor education faculty to discuss attainment of the specific goals. If the faculty agrees that satisfactory progress has been made, this information is shared in writing with the student by the advisor, program coordinator, or initiating faculty member, with a copy to the faculty. If the faculty think that satisfactory progress has not been made, the formal retention review process is initiated.

II. Formal Review Process and Retention Review Meeting
A. If it is determined that the plan of action outlined in the informal review process has not been satisfactorily achieved, the student is invited to meet with the faculty. During this retention review meeting, the student is first given the opportunity to share pertinent information about the plan of action. The faculty also share perceptions at this time with the student. After the student has had adequate time to be heard, she or he is excused from the meeting and the counselor education faculty engages in further discussion and review as necessary in order to make a decision which consists of three options:

1. The student will be allowed to continue in the program without restrictions because the concerns do not warrant further action, as determined by the information provided by the student in the retention review meeting.

2. The student may be placed on "professional probation" with specific outcomes and criteria specified for remediation. These procedures will be placed in writing, with copies to the student, faculty, Department Head and Graduate Dean. During this probationary period, the student is not usually allowed to enroll in practicum or internship. The probationary plan will be monitored by the student's advisor. At the end of the time period specified for remediation, the faculty will meet to discuss whether to remove the student from probation, continue probation with a new set of recommendations and timeframe, or suspend from the program.

3. If the student is suspended from the program, he/she may not enroll in further coursework in counseling. After this decision is made, it will be communicated in person to the student by the Coordinator of Counseling and in writing to the student, faculty, Department Head and Graduate Dean.

4. The student may appeal to the Department Head within 10 days after being notified of the decision. This appeal procedure is outlined in the Student Policies and Regulations Affecting Students document available in the Vice President's office, Student Services Center.

III. Practice Based Retention in Practicum or Internship
A. Occasionally during practicum or internship the instructor or site supervisor(s) may have significant concerns about an individual's skill levels or professional deportment that are sufficient enough to remove the student from the clinical setting. In this case, concerns are expressed verbally and in writing to the student and a remedial plan is developed. This plan may include one or more of the following: attending a skills course for a second time, practicing skills with peers and reviewing tapes with faculty members, doing further reading, or getting personal counseling. The decision to remove a student from this clinical setting is made by the instructor, with input from site supervisors and consultation with the area coordinator. Ordinarily if a student is removed from practicum or internship and agrees to follow the remedial plan, he or she is allowed to re-take the course after it has been determined that sufficient progress has been made and that the student is ready to work with actual clients. If the student does not agree to the remedial plan, the program retention review is initiated because in accordance with ACA and ACES ethical guidelines, we cannot jeopardize clients' welfare by allowing students to counsel them if their skill level or professional deportment is inadequate.

The UNI Program of Counselor Education believes that the stated procedures are in accord with accepted educational practices and the following guidelines of the American Counseling Association: Members, through continual student evaluation and appraisal, must be aware of the personal limitations of the learner that might impede future performance. The instructor must not only assist the learner in securing remedial assistance but also screen from the program those individuals who are unable to provide competent services.

Student Disability Services

Students who are in need of academic accommodations in order to fully participate in this course are invited to visit the Office of Disability Services (ODS) for assistance. The ODS is located at 213 Student Services Center and the phone number is (319)273-2676.

Licensure and Employment

School Counseling Licensure/Endorsement

Once you have completed the K-12 School Counseling program, with practicum and/or internship experience at elementary, middle school, and secondary levels, you will be endorsed as a school counselor who can practice in an elementary, middle school, junior high or secondary setting. The program does not endorse you to practice counseling in any other setting. It is your responsibility to pick up the application materials and submit it with a check to the Departmental secretary who will forward it to the UNI registrar and then the Iowa Department of Education, BOEE.

The state of Iowa (and many other states) no longer requires a teaching certificate or teaching experience in order to become licensed as a counselor. However, non-teaching majors will need to complete 6 additional hours of coursework in order to satisfy state requirements. Refer to the program planning sheet for non-teaching majors.

Please note:

While teaching majors can receive temporary certification and practice as a counselor prior to receiving an M.A. degree, students without a teaching certificate are eligible for temporary certification only after completing all courses and are enrolled in Practicum. However, districts often hire non-certified teachers in other non-teaching positions.

You will need to have fingerprinting and a criminal background check done the semester you plan to graduate (even if you already have done this previously). In addition you will need to attend an Abuse Reporting Seminar. Information concerning this will also be sent to you along with your application for licensure.

SPED 1350 Meeting the Needs of Diverse Learners (2 credits).

Work with your adviser, you may take a different course or may have already taken this content as an undergraduate student. These credits are NOT related to your degree, but your Iowa School Counseling license. Please attach a copy of proof for this course with the exit requirements when submitted.
Clinical Mental Health Counseling Licensure

Students will be provided with supervision and education on the licensure process during their internship supervision based on the current Iowa Board of Behavioral Science’s Bureau of Professional Licensure guidelines: https://idph.iowa.gov/Licensure/Iowa-Board-of-Behavioral-Science/Licensure

The Mental Health Program at the University of Northern Iowa, prepares students to practice as counselors. Each state in the United States has different set of criteria (although they are similar) for licensure. Be sure to check the requirements for the state in which you plan to reside. (American Counseling Association or American Mental Counselors Association website give detailed state information.)

In Iowa you may be eligible for Temporary License upon graduation through the Behavioral Science Board of the State of Iowa. To learn more about the process of becoming licensed or to request a handbook, please go to the web site for the Iowa Department of Public Health, Iowa Board of Behavioral Science Examiners (http://www.iowapublichealth.org or http://www.idph.state.ia.us/licensure/) or call or write to:

Iowa Board of Behavioral Science Examiners
Lucas State Office Building
321 E. 12th Street
Des Moines, IA 50319
(515) 281-4422

After acquiring temporary or professional licensure, the next step is to become registered on the various panels of 3rd party payers which include Medicaid and various insurance companies. Some of these will accept a temporarily licensed mental health counselor (LMHC) and some will require further experience, education, supervision, or other requirements. If you work with an agency, they often will help you to acquire what you need. If this isn’t part of the agreement with the agency or job site, you will need to arrange this for yourself.

Graduates of this program are endorsed to practice mental health counseling in appropriate settings. Graduating from a CACREP-accredited program with a degree in Mental Health Counseling provides you with the academic preparation for some certification and licensure. NOTE: This degree does not license you as a mental health counselor. There are additional requirements that (for Iowa) can be obtained from the State Board for Behavioral Sciences Examiners in Des Moines (515) 281-4422.

NBCC Exam

One of the credentials you can work for after graduating is NCC (Nationally Certified Counselor). The first step of this process is to take the NCE exam which is offered each year in April at the University of Northern Iowa as a special NBCC test site. Students may take the exam the semester in which they will graduate (summer graduates should take the exam in April). Scores will not be released by the NBCC office until after graduation. Brochures and applications are available in the departmental office. Sign-up dates are announced on the listserv.

This is the examination that is necessary for mental health counselor licensure in Iowa. Check the website www.nbcc.org or call (336) 547-0607 for more information about the exam and NCC certification requirements. School counselors may also take it; some states pay more for NCC counselors.

Job Placement
Frequently employers call instructors in the program to announce job openings. Information on these openings will be posted on the listserv. Students are also encouraged to use the UNI Placement and Career Services Center for assistance in developing a resume and seeking employment.

Recommendations and Letters of Recommendation
Students may request letters of recommendation from professors for jobs or want prospective employers to contact faculty regarding qualifications. If you want them to be able to speak to these professionals, you should sign a release of information.

Funding

Graduate assistantships and Scholarships

Graduate Assistantships & Scholarships

The Ida Mae Wilson Scholarship is also open to graduate students, and carries up to a $5,800 stipend. For application forms and more information on the Ida Mae Wilson contact the Associate Dean’s office (319) 273-2719.

Additional Funding
- Limited funding is available for students who are presenting at a professional conference. Pending availability of funds, student attendance at a conference may also be considered. Application forms for the Intercollegiate Academics Fund are available from the Office of the Provost. Consult the website for information - www.uni.edu/vpaa/iaf/.
- Contact the Financial Aid Office for information pertaining to student loans or other forms of financial assistance.

Professional Development

Membership in Professional Counseling Associations/Professional Development
We strongly encourage students to become involved in professional associations such as the American Counseling Association, the Iowa School Counselors Association (ISCA), and the Iowa Mental Health Counselors Association (IMHCA). We also strongly encourage membership in national organizations such as the American Counseling Association divisions (ASCA, AMHCA, as well as other divisions). As a member of a national organization such as ACA, ASCA, or AMHCA you will receive excellent newsletters and scholarly journals, as well as information about outstanding professional development workshops and conferences which you can attend at reduced rates.

Also liability insurance is offered as part of a student membership. Check out student rates: ACA (806) 3476647 web site at: www.counseling.org. ASCA (800) 306-4722/web site at: www.schoolcounselor.org. AMHCA (800) 326-2642. The amount of coverage you should obtain is one million dollars.

Students are also strongly encouraged to attend state and regional professional development workshops and conferences. Attendance at one event must be documented prior to graduation (See Exit Requirement on the web site).
